

Black Dragon Save the Day

One day everything was destroyed. All monsters were ruining the day. The earth was damaged but the black dragon would save the day!

The girl was in the house straight from the water. Her friends were there. Their family of dragons would save the day.

It was icy at the water. The dragons did not like to eat grass, but they liked fish. They went to get them.

Some soldier bad guys tried to trap the dragons up, up, up the cliff. The dragons saved themselves by blowing fire and getting the bad guys all out of there. The fire destroyed things. Everyone needed to find a new home. They found one. They found a rock to stay on.

The girl married someone, and they lived happy forever after.
